Ron Shishido has been elected as a Fellow of the prestigious Canadian Institute of Planners. This honour was bestowed upon Ron for his outstanding contribution to planning in Canada. It recognizes excellence, identifies prominent role models, promotes advances in planning practice, rewards contribution to the profession, and draws leaders to the forefront of planning in Canada. It is the highest honour the Institute can bestow upon a member.

The process of nomination and selection is rigorous and requires strong support across the country. The selection committee believes that Ron has made an exemplary contribution

A presentation naming Ron as a Fellow will be made in front of a national audience of planners at this year's conference in Montreal.

Congratulations to Ron on this well earned honour.
